$200,000 OF TAGE FEES.

It developes that the chief contention before the conference of the tobacco growers and the American Company last night was as whether the American Tubacco Company should pay $3 Contage fees" on every hogshead of tobacco purchased by the company. ()ne of the Iron-clad articles in the organization of the Burley Tobacco Society is the one requiring any purcaser of pooled tobacco to pay to the society $11 in outage for every hogshead of tobaceo bought.

The American Company did not Crops Sold .. All of 1900 and part care to pay this and fought it to the last ditch. LeBns and the growers stood pat, and the company finally yielded. It will pay $3 for every hogshead in addition to the money to be paid for the tobacco, and this will approximate $300,000. This money, so it is said, goes to pay warehouse charges and maintaining the society. - Louisville Times.

> President Clarence LeBus has called a meeting of the Executive Board of the Burley Tobacco Society to be held at Winehester last Tuesday, He also addressed telegrams and sent registered letters to all independent tobacco manufacturers advising them to be on hand promptly at 9 o'clock if they wanted to buy any tobacco, BIG SALE OF DARK TO-BACCO TO IMPERIAL.

Clarksville, Tenn , Nov. 9,-Reliable information has been received here that a contract has been made by the Dark Tobacco Growers' Asso. ciation with the Imperial tobacco buyers, by which the latter are to take ten or twelve million pounds of tobacco from the association. It is learnd furtner that this tobacco is to be placed in hogheads, about 1,200 pounds to the hoghead, and delivered to the warehouses from whence in turn it will be delivered to the factorics. This deal means much to Clarksville as it will lead to the establishment of several stemmeries that will employ a large number of workers. The deal has been pending for several weeks.

It is expected that the market will open as soon as seasonable weather permits. The farmers through this method will be able to prize their tobacco at home and thereby save themselves that portion of the expense that accrues from the employment of expertence prizers.

H. A. Slayden Released---Cases Against Alleged Night Riders Con tinued.

JURY DISMISSED.

Tuesday afternoon soon after the grand jury filed into the court room and handed in their indictments, the court ordered Jailer Travis to release Henry A. Slayden, who was arrested some weeks ago and bound over to await the action of the grand jury, charged with complicity in the murder of James Sullenger. The grand jury failed to indict him and we are informed that they could not connect him in any way with the erime Mr. Slayden was seen after his release and says he feels relieved of a great burden and is the happiest man in the county. His vindication is thorough and if there was any proof against him 'twas not presented to the grand jury we are told. Mr. Slayden and his wife also his son, Edward and his wife are now residents of Marion and he says they will reside here perma-

The grand jury adjourned Tuesday afternoon and were dismissed by Judge Gordon. We are informed that there were only about a dozen bills returned. The H. A. Slayden case was the most important one which came before the body and no bill was found.

Marion presented quite a business like air last Thursday evening and Friday morning when the defendants in the eases of the commonwealth vs Herbert Coleman and others, also commonweath vs Buddy Glass and others charged with complicity in the Dycusburg and Vtew raids in this county last February, all arrived from their homes in Caldwell, Lyon and Trigg counties, and presented themselves for trial. TEDDY'S COMMISSION.

[From the Co-operator.]

"Teddy's commission" of country life seems to be active just now. Here are some of the 13 questions flung at me for reply and here are the red-hot answers I fling back, which will have about as much effect on the commission as water on a duck's back to wet its oily feathers, Perhaps my brother union men may be interested enough to read them. Here are the questions and answers

Are the farm homes in your neighborhood as good as they should be under existing conditions? Perhaps so, under existing condi-

"Why?" Because such combitions should not be allowed to exist under a free government.

"What suggestions have you to make?" Repeal all laws, state and national, that permit corporations or strong and shrewd individuals to take advantage of the weak and simple. Then chact laws that will restore the government to its original intent and purpose, viz: to profeet the weak against the strong

"Are the schools in your neighborhood training boys and girls satisfactorily for life on the farm?" No.

"Why?" Because the same curriculum is being taught that was devised nearly 1,000 years ago nnder William the Conqueror to make out of the disinherited younger sons of the English nobility, who considered it a disgrace to work on the farm with villians, by which name the tillers of the soil were known.

"What suggestions have you to make?" Change the curriculums of the public schools and colleges so that agriculture will have an equal showing and be considered as honorable as Latin and Greek. Then our sons will be educated for and not off, the farm. The same cause has the same effect in all ages, and as this education was designed to keep the vounger pauper sons from the farm. anciently, it has the same effect today to make our sons have a distaste for the farm and seek a small clerkship or enter a professional life.

"Do the farmers in your neighborhood get returns they reasonably should for their products?" No. "Why?" Because the law of supply and demand is thwarted and the farmers' profits are diverted into the pockets of these gamblers' emissaries and hirelings.

"What suggestions have you to moke?" Enact stringent laws to punish millior aire gamblers and put them on a par with the less hernous chance game of the negro verage

.. Do the farmers in your neighborhood receive from the railroads, trolley lines, etc., the service they reasonably should have? ' No.

"Why?" Because the railroads discriminate against certain farm

A TURKEYLESS THANKSGIVING

The Story of the Three Birds That Were Three Times Won and Lost.

HEN the rullroad builders invaded the great northwest, not seeking a passage to the Paelfic coast but rather anticipating the development of an agricultural empire which must have arteries of steel, they were quickly followed by the same class of hardy settlers that had moved westward since the early days. Through the generations that movement has proceeded, slowly at first but ever increasing in speed and volume. Over the Alleghenies, among the woodland and meadow stretches of Ohio and Indiana, across the prairies of lilinois and lows, through the Wisconsin and Minnesota forests to the valleys of Dakota and on to Puget sound. The deseendants of New Englanders have always been noticeable in the advancing tide of home makers and fortune-builders along those parallels of latitude. Thanksgiving day as an annual November celebration marked by family reunions and feasting is one of the good things that have persisted among March, has created a shortage of ally henored. And the distinguishing about 20,000 telegraphers on the feature of this feast-day is the tragrailroads of the United States. edy of that royal fowl, the turkey. A church service without lesson, music, or benediction. There are makeshift collations, of course, that pass for dinners with those not to the manner kind in America and is under the born, but the sons of the sons of New one of these but would rather go through trials by fire and water rather than endure the absence of that glorious head-piece from the Thanksgiving board. In the first years of the '80's two great rival railroad companies were hastening to secure for themselves in eastern Dahota the rich fields of a traffic yet to come into being. Both had entered the wonderfully fortile James river valley from the east, and as one turned its line northward from Huron the other turned southward from Aberdson, and the near approach of winter and the close of active operations found the two competing construction camps only a few miles apart. With the advance of the railroads or a little preceding them had come settlers upon the government domain, and though farmers and wheatraisers were in the vas, such somadic and adventurene spirits as land agents and townsite boomers, traders and newspaper men could be discovered even more easily. Early in Nevember work upon the railroad lines baltand the builders retired to await the opening of spring. At the terminus of each read a little settlement had arrung up, less than a half-dozon res marking the site of what boot (ne which all but Redfield marks were barred), a turker dinner at the botel, and a grand ball in the railwas warehouse. This was calculated to make its rival, Ashton, either swell with rage to bursting or wither away in self-abasement and despair.

The fateful day arrived, a gray day with the first fiskes of snow in the bolical skill developed in a resident of two weeks' atanding, and all three turkeys fell before his trusty rifle. The fowls had been set up at 150 yards and with only their heads exposed to the destructive bulleta. All participants at half a dollar for each shot had displayed remarkable accuracy of aim, but the winner had distanced his competitors, and captured the shooting match. The apprehension evolved among the witnesses of this remarkable accident soon ripened into rebellious determination. What was to be done with a dialoyal citizen who calmly announced that the turkeys would be served up at a private banquet at the Hetel Dodge, to be enjoyed by himaelf and two especial friends? He said he thought a bird aplece was about their normal capacity, and as three fowls certainly could not furnish meal for 75, and semebody must go without turkey, it would be more satisfactory all asound to let three lucky fellows get enough for cace. At the end of a short but explosive debate the winner was immured in a freight car in apite of his verbal and fistic protests, and the turkeys were handed ever to the hotel proprietor and his cook to be prepared for the grand public diamer. The short winter day came to

How to Cure Indigestion

Well Known Family Physician Gives Good

"When a person cannot eat ordinary food without discomfort afterward, when he has heartburn, sick headache, gas on the stomach, water brash, beiches up sour food, and this condition has contin-ued for a week or more, it certainly is time to do something and do it quickly.' That's what a popular physician recently said to the writer. "First thing you know you'll have dyspepsia if you don't."

The quickest and best way to regain your normal condition is to step into the drug store and buy a 50c bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It gives natural, daily movements to the bowels, and that is usually where more than half the trouble lies. Then it aids digestion, sweetens the stomach, acts on the liver and is a general system tonic.

Postmaster Ridgili, of Bruceville, Tex., had such a severe attack of dyspepsia that his stomach, liver and bowels seemed almost paralyzed, but a few dosea of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin relieved him Alpena, Mich., says that one bottle cured her of a very severe case of indigsstion. A. L. Espich, Chief of Police, New Philadelphia, Ohio, says: "I find Dr. Caidwell's Syrup Pepsin the best remedy for indigestion I ever used. I would not be without it." Rev. A. J. Fletcher, Ruther early in the morning at Redfield, as advertised, but an unforeseen contingency resulted. A marksman of truly diaindigestion with it, so you see that while it is so effective it will cure cases of iong standing of dyspepsia and constipa-tion in old people, it is perfectly safe for bables, and it is pleasant to take, and Growth of Tobacco industry.

The industry of manufacturing smoking and chewing tobacco in this country represents invested capital of $178, 000, 000. In five years covered by government stastistics the aggregate investments rose to the figures quoted from $43,000, 000, and there was an increase of $15, 000,000 in the aggregate annaal product. This manufacture of tobacco is one of the few industries in the country that, as a result of consolidation and so-called "trust manipulation." have brought about s remarkable increase in invested capital and a large increase in output, with a diminution of $1,000,-000 a year in annual wages paid and a falling off of more, than 6,000 in the number of employee. .. In the manufacture of eigers and cigaretter $145,000,000 is invested, which represents a doubling of the capital in the five-year period. The aggregate product is. worth more than $214,000,000 annually, an increase from $159,000,000, and the wages paid amount to an increase of $15, 000,900. There was an increase of 32,000 in the number of employes.

The Teachers And Morals.

We are certainly glad to know that the moral standard is being raised by the teachers in Crittenden Co, although I believe it has always stood up toward the head of the column, morally; but there is always room for improvement, and nuless we grasp every opportunity to elevate the pupils and ourselves as teachers, we will soon find ourselves at a stand still.

If a teacher can not create a greater moral atmosphere, in the community, where he or she is teaching, than they find existing in such community, they are really not the teacher. It is the one that is elevating the morals that is teaching, and not the so-called teacher, therefore it is necessary for the teacher to set a high standard of morals in the school and endeavor to make every one, great and small, walk under that standard.

If I am allowed to predict, I will say that in the future, the moral qualification will be the one qualification most sought for, and I think should be, as we educate children to make the best citizens possible of them; in other words we are prepar- 90. ing them to receive the Gospel of Jesus Christ. So lets always be 90, ready to lay ourselves before them as a moral standard that will elevate them to the highest degree of eitizenship. C. O. Pogue.

Tim the flames roar fierce and high, Then my thoughts frevert to boyhood. When Thankstiving day drew nigh.

In the flames I see the farmhouse, And the woodland brown and sere Where the sportsman's rifle echoed As that day of days drew near, Scenes which ever shall be cherished In the burning logs appear

I can see the deep old cellar-Where the apple bins piled high, Overshadowed heaps of pumpkins Golden as the sunset sky, And the casks of new fall cider Stood along the wall close by.

As the old-time scenes are fading While the fire slowly dies, ? ? Visions of a groaning table Are presented to my eyes, And I almost scent the fragrance Of the mince and pumpkin pies. =

NEITHER TURKEY NOR QUAIL.

Nevertheless This Thanksgiving Dinner Was a Remarkable One.

"I reckon that my epicurean tenden cies are as well developed as those of most men," said an old newspaper man to a group which was discussing things gastronomic, "and I have quite a taste for the elegant in the edible line, so to speak. But of all the meals I ever partook of the one that stands pre eminent in my experience was my Thanksgiving dinner in 1888. Some time previously I had started from Memphis with an artist on a commission from a Memphis paper to write up the educational institutions of Mississippl, and during Thanksgiving week was at Columbus, in Lowndes county. I was invited by a friend to go quall shooting Thanksgiving day, and gladly accepted. By daybreak we were on our way to the sparsely settled country down the Tombigbee river in a light wagon that not only carried us and our dogs and a darky boy driver, but a basket filled with eat-ables and drinkables. "We followed the dogs, which were duly diligent, but not a covey did we find. Reaching the rendezvous made with that chuckle-hended darky, we didn't find hlm or wagon, either. My friend had killed a rabbit a short time previously, and we were discussing the propriety of building a fire and harbecuing the bunny, when we alence in God and cannot love film in her he would not forget it after he near by. HE celebration of Thanksgiving day 40 years ago, the close of the civil war. There are some things about this country to-day with which even a goodnatured person can find fault. But a is now shows vast general improvement. To begin with, Thanksgiving day, 1865, found the country as yet practically unaddressed to the problem of iron deposits of Michigan, the zim getting over the frightful struggle deposits of Missouri and countless bedt that had rent and torn and well-nigh disrupted it. Not only were the wounds of sectional Ill-feeling still open and unhealed, but most of the industries of one great section were still practically prostrated.

The readjustment of the country's business, difficult always after a great war, but doubly so after the civil war, because of the enormous inflation to which the currency had been subjected, was yet to be undertaken.

Most important agencies in the new and stronger union which has come to the United States since 1865 have been furnished by the tremendously improved means of communication and transportation. Most folk accept it today as a matter of course. To the younger generation it seems like an institution that has always existed, without which, no matter how much fault may he found with its rates, the business of the country could not well go on. But while there were about 50,000 miles of railroad in 1865, there are more than four times that many today, or about 215,000, more than seven miles for every 100 square miles of the total for 1865 being worth rather territory.

very well, there was no steel highway linking the coast of the Atlantic with the coast of the Pacific. Then there were three ways by which one wishing to travel from New York or Boston or Washington, to San Francisco | turn stimulating their development, intior fortland, could do so: Overland by a combination of rail to the Mississlppl, and stage coach and horseback and manufacturing, there has been an westward from the river, a journey re- unbelievable growth of cities and quiring many days; by steamer or towns. 4° sailing ship around the Horn, a voyage of months; or by steamer to the good dinner of turkey and pumpkin I think of Pana : a (they called it | ple and other standard Yankee vlands, in the largest on the Panama contemplates the tremendous advance i, i at the heads stepmer again his settlements have made he may a sa Fancisco

Since 1865 the general material ite velopment of the country has been in 186%, was the first after such as to transcend all ordinary hu man understanding.

Vast new mining fields have been opened, whole areas of coal deposits many of them entirely unsuspected have been found and developed since cursory contrast of the condition of 1865. The enormously valuable depos the country as it was then and as it its of copper in Montana have all beer discovered and developed since 1865 Michigan's, though known before then have also been mainly developed in side of 40 years. So have the great of mineral wealth of all sorts in the south and in the almost boundless trans-Mississippi regions.

> Secretary Seward knew that there was almost fabulous treasure under the surface of what was called Rus sian America when he bought it from the czar's government, but the gold and silver and other mineral wealth of Alaska has practically all beer found and developed within the last ten years. In 40 years the addition from mineral sources alone to the wealth of the country has amounted to billions on the back of billions.

Petroleum was discovered before 1865, and the development of territory which yielded it was begun 40 years ago, hut by far the greater part of that development has been accomplished since then.

Along with all these things the area of cultivated land has been in creased so that the wheat and corn and cotton and other crops of the pres ent are enormously vaster than they were in 1865. Manufactures of all sorts have increased enormously also more than two billions of dollars; this Then, as the old heads remember year the total value of our manufac tures will not be far from fifteen bil ilons of dollars, roughly estimating the ligures from the census of 1900.

Stimulated by the extension and de velopment of the railroads, and it mately interiocked and interdependent with the growth of mining, agriculture

And, as Uncle Sam, after a right also dwell in thought upon the fact to that the total of the country's populato the to the has grown from about 33,500,000 in 1865, to more than $0,000,000 in
